

Tiger Required Adventure

My Tiger Jungle

Videos for this adventure are at the link below

Each of the requirements in this Adventure should take around 15-20 minutes and should function as the Activity portion of a Den Meeting. Adventure also includes one outside of Den Meeting activity. If a Den meets once a week, this Adventure can be completed in one month (four den meetings and one monthly outing).

What You Will Need:

Outdoors

1. Sounds of Nature

My Tiger Jungle

Instructions for Caring Adult or Leader

Just as birds use sound to talk to each other, so do our other animal neighbors. How do squirrels talk? What about insects? What other sounds from nature can you hear in your jungle? If you live in the city, what are some other sounds of your city jungle?

Go for a walk outside, and help youth pick out two or more sights or sounds of "nature" around you.

Try going outside at different times of the day to hear different sounds.

Did you hear any of the following sounds?

What You Will Need:

Birdseed, Markers, crayons,
colored pencils

3. Birds

Watch the videos associated with this Adventure at the Tiger Adventures Playlist on Youtube. The QR code to this playlist is in the front of this pdf.

Hope your youth set up a bird feeder in your yard. Watch the feeder for 1 week. Try to identify at least two of the birds that come to the feeder.

Check out this Texas Bird coloring book. for more info and activities.

Different Birds Have Different Nests

Hummingbirds have tiny nests held together with spider silk.

Osprey have large nest where they can see fish in the water

Carolina Wrens are common near houses and will nest on or in tools, pots or even shoes.

5. Bird House

My Tiger Jungle

Instructions for Caring Adult or Leader

Procure a bird house kit your local Scout Shop or see the Additional Resources Section online

Help your youth to follow the instructions to make their birdhouse. Hang their birdhouse.

Did a bird use your birdhouse?

A Scout is kind. You can be kind to the birds by not touching their nests, their eggs, or their babies. By leaving them alone, you can help them have a safe home.

Scout Law Connection

A Scout is Friendly

Spending time in nature is very healthy for you. It can help you feel better, make you exercise more and feel more grounded. But what does that mean.

How does being in nature make you feel?
How often do you go out in nature?
