- 11)When carrying arrows, always cover the points with your hand, hold them to the side, and walk.
- 12)Everyone must return to the shooting line and the range checked to make sure no one is behind the target butts or in the shooting zone before the signal to commence shooting is given. The instructor should be the last one to walk to the shooting line.
- 13)If an emergency occurs, anyone may call a cease fire. The instructor should use five or more whistle blasts and all shooting must stop immediately. Even if the bow is held at full draw and the signal is given, the arrow must not be released. The bow should be pointed at the ground and the bowstring let slowly forward. The arrow should be removed from the bow until the range is clear.

ATLAS AT50 OPERATIONS

Before connecting to battery, read, understand all safety instructions

General Operations

Stand at rear of trap and stay clear of throwing arm.

Make sure toggle switch is in the “down” position.

Attach battery terminals to battery.

Flip the toggle switch to the “up” position. Trap will cock at this time.

Cautions: when the trap is connected to the battery, the trap is cocked and ready to fire. When the trap is disconnected from the battery, it is still in the cocked position. See safety precautions and de-cocking procedures below.

LOADING CLAYS

Before the trap runs out of clays,

1. Turn the toggle switch to the down position and tap the fire button. This will fire the trap and allow the target plunger to move out of the way to allow more clays to be loaded.
2. Remove both battery clips from the battery. Stand to rear of the trap. Stay clear of the throwing arm path, which is 360°.
3. Fill with clays before re-connecting the battery.

TO UN-COCK TRAP

Step 1. Put toggle switch down.

Step 2. Tap the fire button until arm fires.
